China took another giant step towards becoming the owner of the world's largest economy when it surpassed the US as the world's largest goods trading nation in 2017. They've said that. If we get to an agreement, I think we'll go in a good direction." The US secretary of state, Mike Pompeo, recently floated the idea of removing tariffs altogether. "If they come to the table and in a bold spirit reach a deal that really benefits American consumers and American workers, I think that would be the most important thing that we could do." On the flip side, there have also been concerns that China could use its massive trade surplus to pressure its
